Care instructions

For oiled and waxed surfaces

Oiled and waxed surfaces enjoy great popularity - they are an expression of a modern, ecological and sustainable way of life in the society. In order to preserve the natural characteristics, quality and appearance of your interior, it was preferably treated with a high-quality NaturExpert product of the Rosner brand. Rosner NaturExpert products impart a positive atmosphere to your room, enhance the natural colour of the wood, are breathable and provide protection against dirt and water. Since every surface finish is subject to natural wear and tear through continuous use, it requires regular cleaning and maintenance.

Precautions can be taken in advance to protect the oiled and waxed surface from natural and mechanical as well as physical wear.

By providing sufficiently large entrance matting systems, equipping the table and chair legs with suitable pads (e.g. felt pads), supplying chairs with soft castors in accordance with DIN 68131, but also using tablecloths and overlays can significantly extend the life span of the oiled and waxed surface and preserve its beauty for a long time.

First treatment with a Rosner NaturExpert product

The more the freshly oiled and waxed surface is protected within the first few days, the longer the life span of the surfaces. The surfaces should only be fully stressed after approx. 14 days. Please refer to the correspondent technical data sheet!

During this period, only dry-clean the treated floor and do not cover it with carpets. Carefully place furniture and other heavy furnishings. Freshly treated furniture should also only be cleaned dry during this period. Tablecloths, overlays and coverings should also only be laid on surfaces that have been completely dried for two weeks.

Cleaning and maintenance

Dry cleaning

Fine dirt and sand have the same effect as sandpaper on the surface. For daily cleaning to remove dirt and dust from the oiled and waxed floor, we recommended to use a vacuum cleaner, a soft broom or a lint-free wipe. For freshly oiled or waxed furniture, it is recommended to use a dry, soft and lint-free dust cloth. Surfaces freshly treated with Rosner NaturExpert products should only be cleaned dry and not with washing-up liquids or cleaning agents in the first two weeks. Please do not use microfiber cloths for dry cleaning, as they destroy the treated surface like a fine sandpaper.

Damp cleaning

For routine wet cleaning of your oiled or waxed surface, use a damp, soft and lint-free wipe. Ensure not to use harsh cleaning agents containing additives such as ammonia, alcohols or softeners or scratching cleaning agents with abrasive additives. It is important that the surfaces are wiped dry afterwards.

Care of oiled or waxed floors

Rosner NaturExpert Wischpflege makes the regular wet cleaning very easy and your floor treated with Rosner NaturExpert products more resistant. It has cleaning and care ingredients and biodegradable surfactants, is self-shining and dirt-repellent. How often your oiled or waxed wooden floor needs to be maintained with Rosner NaturExpert Wischpflege depends on the stress. We recommend cleaning once a month in private households. In highly frequented areas such as restaurants and public facilities, cleaning intervals of one week with Rosner NaturExpert Wischpflege are required.

For the first application, add 500-750 ml to 8 litres of water, depending on the type of flooring, and wipe with a well wrung out cloth. This first application is recommended at the earliest two weeks after completion of the floor coating. Only then, resins, oils and waxes are sufficiently set.

For regular maintenance cleaning, you should thoroughly clean your floor with Rosner NaturExpert Wischpflege before it becomes dull. For this purpose, add 100-150 ml to 8 litres of water and wipe only with a well wrung out cloth. Rosner NaturExpert Wischpflege is not does not require to clean the floor afterwards with water. The care film can be additionally compressed by buffing and worked to a high-gloss finish. However, it is important that the surfaces are wiped dry afterwards.

Care of oiled and waxed furniture surfaces

For routine and optimal maintenance of oiled or waxed furniture, which has been pre-treated with Rosner NaturExpert products, we recommend Rosner NaturExpert Holzpflegeöl. It contains cleaning and care components based on vegetable oils, removes water and alcohol stains, levels small scratches. The surface must be dry and free of dust and grease before treatment. Apply Rosner NaturExpert Holzpflegeöl sparingly to the surface and use a soft lint-free cloth or pad to spread it evenly, to work it in and to polish if necessary. Pre-clean highly stressed surface before applying Rosner NaturExpert Holzpflegeöl. The first application is recommended at the earliest 14 days after completion of the surface coating. Only then, resins, oils and waxes are sufficiently set.

Re-oiling and re-waxing

During the cleaning process, we remove not only dirt, but also oil and wax from the surface. Therefore, the surface should be re-oiled/re-waxed at regular intervals. Re-oiling or re-waxing is necessary if the surface appears slightly whitish or matt, or if the oil film degrades over time. Rosner NaturExpert Oil and Wax, which was used for the initial treatment, is suitable for re-oiling and re-waxing. Please refer to the technical data sheet.

Important: When re-oiling/waxing, always make sure that the surplus material is completely removed from the surface.

Indoor climate

Since wood is a natural material, it reacts to temperature and humidity changes as if it is alive. Preserving the value of the wood surface and the well-being of people require a healthy room climate (approx. 20°C and approx. 65% relative humidity). If the humidity falls below the recommended level, surface defects and gaps in parquet and floorboards must be expected.

Due to different conditions, circumstances and stresses in practice, this technical data sheet only serve as recommendation. We therefore assume no warranty or liability
